THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 24 day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

Tilden's barrel has still a hold on the Democratic leaders. There seems to be an indefinite fascination about it. The barrel will be nominated.

Dr. Lord, of Edgerton, is fully armed and equipped for the fight in regard to capital punishment. He will be the leader in the Assembly on the side of hanging.

It is a fact that Garcelon and the Council made a mistake when they did not count out Eugene Hale. He makes stealing a very unpleasant business for them.

The Legislature will not get down to hard work until the first of next week. We may then expect business and a program which will lead to a short session.

Blaine still takes the lead in the Presidential canvass in Indiana, which has been started by the Indianapolis Journal. Grant comes next, and Sherman takes the third place.

The Maine Democrats have taken the shortest possible road to defeat and oblivion. They have been headed for that direction for some time, but now they have started on a double-quick.

The Republican majority in the Legislature is so large that it is pretty hard to find a Democrat. They are few and far between, and very docile. The Republicans will do the business while the Democrats can draw their pay and look on.

Within a few months past there have been sent from New York to the West, 677 homeless children, and have been placed in good homes. Very recently Mrs. J. J.
Astor sent out one hundred, paying all their expenses, and providing them with suitable homes.

The report is going about the country that ex-Senator Pomroy of Kansas, is making $1,000 out of his gold mine in North Carolina. It is also said that at least one-third of the United States Senators are engaged in speculation, and are usually successful.

The Chicago Tribune editorially says the arguments in the Hayden murder trial will not be concluded short of thirty days more. The dispatches from New Haven say the arguments have been finished, and the charge given to the jury to-day. It is probable that a verdict will be rendered this week, unless the jury agree to disagree.

It is said that President Hayes proposes to appoint ex-Congressman Lynch, (colored) of Mississippi, one of the Supervisors of the census in his State. The President would do a worthy man a good service to do that thing. Lynch was cheated out of his seat in Congress by Democratic bulldozers, and the medicine which the President is preparing for them is just the kind. The Democrats should have some more just like it.

The Fond du Lac Commonwealth reproduces a Gazette paragraph in regard to ex-Senator Howe and the Russian Mission, and then adds: "But would it not be rather hard on the Russians to introduce an element into their country which would add to the severity of the climate? Next to Charles Francis Adams, Mr. Howe is the iciest man in America. There is no question but that he would make a nice thing out of the salary of $17,500, when he saved a handsome fortune upon the Senatorial salary of $5,000.

It is already being hinted that Bob Ingersoll will nominate Blaine at the Chicago Convention next June. The speech he made in Cincinnati in 1876 which made him famous, and Blaine a political hero, was a masterpiece of eloquence, and has not since been equaled in this country.
The Chicago Tribune says "if the Grant men wish to counteract the effect of Ingersoll's magic eloquence, let them get Colonel Vilas, of Wisconsin, who thrilled the audience at the Palmer House banquet with a most remarkable speech, to present the General's name. His eloquence is matchless, and he is a strong Grant man, though a Democrat. It might be a good opportunity to baptize Vilas into the Republican church."

BEAT AGAIN.—Notwithstanding that a strong guard was kept about the capital and in the executive chamber, and all around, on Tuesday night, a copy of the governor's message found its way out, and was published to the world as early as four o'clock this morning. Set 'em up again.—Madison Democrat of Thursday.

The Democrat crowded a little too early in the morning. It should not have put so much faith in the ability of the Chicago Times or any other morning paper, to steal a copy of the message before its publication, or to bribe the person or persons who had it in keeping. The message did not clandestinely find its way out, neither was it published to the world, at four o'clock on Thursday morning. Every trick known to Chicago Times reporter, and their tricks are numerous, was attempted in order to secure a copy of the message in advance of its delivery, but as predicted in the Gazette on Wednesday, the Times failed in showing its "enterprise" in either stealing or procuring a copy by bribery.

Governor Smith can congratulate himself that he has not been "sold" by such a paper.

Mr. Arthur P. Gorman, who will succeed Mr. William P. Whyte, as United States Senator from Maryland, has had a remarkable career. He will be one of the youngest men in that body, being only 40 years old. At one time he was a page in the Senate—then being only 13 years old. He was so bright and active that he attracted the attention of Stephen A. Douglas, who was in this Senate at that time, and he made young Gorman his Secretary and confidential friend. Douglas became so much attached to Gorman that he took him with him on all his famous electioneering tours, and especially in the celebrated contest with Lincoln, in 1858. At the outbreak of the war he was a little inclined to follow Jeff Davis, and went to that individual and asked him what he should do.
"Follow your State," answered Davis, and Gorman did, and with Douglas supported the cause of the Union. Mr. Gorman has filled many positions of trust in Maryland, and as a political tactician will hardly have a superior in the United States Senate.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.
The third annual message of Governor Smith was read to the Legislature at noon on Thursday, and was published in the Gazette on the same day. The message is one of these documents which will bear a careful reading. It is not long, neither is it loaded down with unintelligible figures and dry statements. It is an excellent state paper, and gives as briefly as possible, the condition of the State and its institutions.

He first deals with the finances of the State, and gives the receipts of the Treasury for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1879, at $1,312,682.20, and the disbursements for the same time at $1,627,146.49, leaving a balance in the Treasury of $385,536.69. The State debt at the close of the fiscal year was $2,253,- 057. The indebtedness of the counties, cities, towns, villages, and school districts in the State is $10,115,592, which, with the State debt, makes the total indebtedness of the people of Wisconsin a little over 12 millions of dollars, or about $3.50 per capita of the estimated population. There are but few States in the Union—not more than four or five, perhaps six—that can boast of so small a debt. The State tax now being collected, is $455,000, which is $236,517 less than last year, and 23 per cent. less than the least tax in any preceding year.
This is one of the important benefits resulting from Governor Smith's wise and economical administration.

The cost of the common schools in the State during the year, was $2,153,788.15, seventy-four per cent. of which was paid to teachers as wages. There were 293,286 scholars attending school during the past year, and were taught by 9,875 teachers, and in 5,620 school houses.

The message states that the number of convicts in the State Prison on the 30th of September, was 309, thirty-seven less than there was on the corresponding day last year. There were 130 commitments during the year, against 213 for the year ending September 30, 1878. The Governor discusses the condition of the various State institutions, and gives some interesting facts concerning them. He evidently does not believe in the manner in which the Trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane have been doing business during the year—making improvements and expending vast sums of money without any authority of the law—and refers the matter to the Legislature.

The Governor renews his suggestion of last year, regarding the establishment of an institution for dependent children. He says the law wisely prohibits the authorities from sending these unfortunate to the poor-house, and it should also prohibit them from being sent to the industrial schools, the inmates of which are generally incorrigible youths, or criminals. He does not think it is right to bring dependent children which are either orphans or homeless, but have no bad habits, in contact with the classes which usually find their way into the Industrial School. This subject is one which should receive the earnest attention of the Legislature.

We call the attention of the readers of the Gazette to these parts of the message treating upon railways, the Fox River improvement, public lands, the lot of interest, and agriculture. A careful reading of the message will give one a great deal of valuable information concerning State matters which cannot be obtained except by consulting a great many public documents, very few of which are accessible to the general reader.

FEMALE HORSETHIEF.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 15.—Miss Elizabeth Hammond, a young and pretty girl of about 22, was brought to the city to-day and committed to the State Penitentiary to serve out a sentence of three years for horse stealing in Russell county. The fair prisoner belongs to a highly respectable family in that section, and is well educated, and the last person who would be selected as a thief, much less the daring and bold one which she is alleged to be.
Miss Hammond is said to have run off with several valuable horses during the past few months. She was detected in one of those forays a few weeks ago, arrested, tried, convicted, and to-day is the occupant of a cell in the State prison. The accused is petite in figure, with soft, dark brown eyes and chestnut curls, with a face of peculiar attractiveness. This is believed to be the first case where a woman has been convicted on the charge of horse stealing, and is certainly the only one of the kind that ever occurred in this State.

THE MAINE QUESTION.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.
AUGUSTA, Jan. 16.—At noon the Fusionists proceeded to elect a Governor. Fourteen ballots were taken, when Garcelon's and Smith's names were sent to the Senate, and Smith elected by eighteen votes. His election was made unanimous. He was the Greenback candidate for Governor before the people.

Lamson appointed a full staff. No one is allowed in the State House without a pass. The Fusionists seated Murray in place of Butler from Vassilburg.

FROM MADISON.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.
MADISON, Jan. 16.—Both houses of the Legislature have adjourned over to Monday evening. Most of the members went home on the morning trains, but many others went to Chicago and Milwaukee to interview the metropolitan elephant. Very few remain over and the town is exceedingly dull to-day in consequence.

The two most important bills introduced yesterday were relative to minors and amending the lien law; the former fixes heavy penalties upon guardians and show managers who permit or hire minors to take part in professional travelling shows, especially circuses, intention being to break up the custom in this State.

The lien bill is for the benefit of employees in the lumber region greatly enlarging the scope of the present law.

There will be this session an unusually large number of local bills, relating especially to Northern lumber interest. Business in this direction will open up lively Monday evening and a large list of pet measures will be floated during next week, and every member seems to have his pockets full.

Advocates of the hanging bill seem to be confident of victory. There will be a deal of log rolling in regard to the Deaf and Dumb Institute. It is predicted that it will not be established again at Delavan.

The proposition to abolish the State Board of Charities and Reform will be advanced by the Democrats, but will most likely be defeated by a party vote after a discussion.

THE SITUATION.

The Work of the Fusion Legislature in Maine.
BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Specials from Augusta say that a weak dodge of the Fusionists was carried out in the House to-day. Just before they got ready to seat a Democrat and oust a Republican, the chief fighters circulated around among the members and spread the story that General Chamberlain had recognized Lamson as Governor, and was about to clear the State House of all the police except fifteen.
When the story had served its purposes it was dropped, and the Democratic member was put in his place.
This was followed by the promise of another report from the Election Committee this afternoon, but for prudential reasons, as was announced in the session, the matter was deferred until to-morrow. It is said to say that there will be no election of Governor until after a verdict is rendered by the Court at Bangor. The rank and file cannot be brought up to the fighting pitch by Pillsbury & Co.
Lamson has up to this time put no obstacles in the way of General Chamberlain. Leading Fusionists say that if any movement is made to push matters and precipitate action before the Court decides, they will resist to the end and fight it in every possible manner. One whose influence in the Fusion party is well known says he will leave the party and denounce it in the strongest terms possible. An officer in the Senate opposes any forward movement, and will kick over the traces if Smith's election is pushed. And so the members meet forenoon and afternoon, gather in groups and talk over the situation, while Dickey, Pillsbury, Stacey & Co., fit to and fro on their miscellaneous errands. This has been an extremely dull day, and in marked contrast to what was expected, exciting and important events having been looked for. The calm, quiet and cool administration of Governor Chamberlain and the presence of an efficient police have had much to do with this freedom from excitement. In brief, the solution of affairs is just this: As far as any legislative work is concerned, the two Houses are just where they were an hour after the illegal organization. The Fusion members have learned after a week's discipline that the Republicans are determined to stand for their rights in all legal ways. The fighting element has been chastened, if not entirely subdued. No outbreak is expected unless a great wrong is inflicted, and but a little while remains until we shall be relieved of the terrible strain on the public mind.

AFTER OFFICE.

A General Scramble for Census Supervisors at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—There is a prospect of some contest over the confirmation of several supervisors. These offices are of small consequence, and the pay is but $500; but, from the amount of warmth displayed in making selections, one would think them equal to foreign missions of the first class. The Democrats say that it was the understanding when the law was passed that they were to have some of the fat.
Speaker Randall is on his ear about several of the appointments, and to-night he had an interview with Peadarton, requesting the Senate to sit down heavily upon such as were distasteful.
There has seldom been so much feeling about $500 offices.

As to the Ohio Supervisors, General Walker has consulted with all the Ohio members, and made up a list of eight to send in. There were four Republicans and four Democrats. When it became known that four Democrats were to be appointed, the Ohio Republican members went to the President to protest, and got a member of the Cabinet to take an active hand. The result was the President ignored Walker's list, and sent in one of his own, omitting the Democrats. Senator Pleadon is Chairman of the Census Committee, and many Democrats are urging him to take advantage of his position, and report against the confirmation of some of these Republicans.

THE HAYDEN CASE.

THE END OF THE TRIAL—Argument of the Attorneys.
NEW HAVEN, Jan. 15.—The Hayden trial witnessed the concluding plea to-day.
Both were magnificent efforts and the local papers devote a full page to them. The courtroom has been packed, and a line of struggling human beings extend this afternoon far out on the pavement in front of the Court-House. Mr. Waller made the closing argument for the prosecution. It was dramatic, stirring, and intense. The wonderful chain of circumstantial evidence which has been woven around the accused was traced link to link. The motive was portrayed—the stealthy purchase of poison to rid this clergyman of a woman whom he had no money to silence by sending her away to have an operation performed. Mr. Waller next gave a vivid description of the action of the dreadful tragedy beneath the shadow of Big Rock.
It was imaginative of course, for no witness of the murder can be found. He said:
"He gives her a little bit of poison so as not to frighten her. It begins to burn. He don't know the workings of arsenic; he tells her—you can hear him unless your ears are stopped with prejudice,—Mary, you cannot expect your trouble removed without pain. God has in His wisdom made it so that women go near to death in giving birth to an honest child." She must have seen something that looked like murder in his face.
She knew she was near the house. She knew the echoing character of the woods.
She screams out and is then a corpse. He knocks her down, then he takes his knife and cuts her throat. He has no coat and his shirt sleeves are rolled up. There is no blood that will not wash off. The devil himself must have been amazed.
What does he do now? He puts the knife in his pocket,—no, not here. He starts for home and tops at the first brook to wash off the blood. But the fifteen five-millionths of a drop of blood remained in the groove of the blade, and science found it with the microscope." Mr. Waller dwelt on the fact that no one else had been shown to have any motive for the killing, and in conclusion, urged the jury that, if not so certain of guilt as to warrant a verdict in the second degree, and while sending the Hayden to the penitentiary to vindicate the wrong done the public, at the same time leave him an opportunity hereafter to establish innocence if he can. The closing argument for the defense by the senior counsel, Mr. Watrous, was a cold, searching analysis of the testimony for the State. He portrayed its inconsistencies, its improbabilities, and in scathing terms criticised the extraordinary readiness of many of the State's witnesses to come forward and testify to anything and everything which the State might need to connect links in the chain which it had endeavored to weave around an innocent man. He pointed out that many things which Hayden had done, and which the State alleged were indicative of guilt, were quite natural, and some worse such that no guilty man possessed of good sense would ever think of doing. In conclusion, he said that Mr. Hayden rejected the suggestion of the State that a verdict be given of second degree only. He preferred to take the risks of acquittal or conviction. As indicated, the Court will charge the jury to-morrow forenoon.

HOME IS WHERE THERE'S ONE TO LOVE US.

Home is not merely four square walls, Though with flowers and gilded;
Home is where affection calls, Fills with smiles the heart that builds.
Home is where the heart can bloom,
Sailing 'neath the heaven above us;
Home is where there's one to love;
Home is where there's one to love us!

Home is not merely roof and room;
Home is something to endure it;
Home is where the heart can bloom,
Where there's some kind lip to cheer it!
What is home with none to meet?
None to weep with, none to grieve us?
Home is sweet, and only sweet, When there's one we love to meet us!

WHEN I MEAN TO MARRY.

BY JOHN G. FARR.
When do I mean to marry?—well—
"The idea to dispute with fate; But if you choose to hear me tell, I'll listen while I live the date.

When daughters have with eager feet,
A mother's duty to obey;
Can make the pudding which they eat,
And mend the stockings which they wear;
When maidens look upon a man As a husband what they would marry, And not as army soldiers scan A soldier's glory;
When gentle ladies who have got The offer of a lover's hand, Consent to share his "earthly lot,"
And not to mean his lot of land; When young mechanics are allowed To "dod and wed the farmers' girls," Who don't expect to be endowed With riches, diamonds and with pearls; When wives, in short, shall freely give Their hearts and hands to all their spouses, And live as they were wont to live, Within their sire's one-story houses.

Then maiden—if I'm not too old—Resolved to quit this lonely life, I'll brush my beard, cease to scold,
And look about me for a wife!

BRIEFLETS.

—Temple of Honor night.
—The streets are very orderly these nights. Few arrests.
—The Merry Club will have another merry time to-night.

—The Henry adultery case will be decided to-morrow afternoon.
—The County jail is having its roof shingled. Hope it won't catch cold.
—Henry P. Williams, now of Colorado Springs, Col., is in the city greeting old friends again.

—The Bowler City Band give their annual concert on the 26th inst. at the Congregational church.

—Mrs. Beers' condition remains about the same to day as yesterday, there being no signs of further improvement.

—DeLass Williams was lodged in jail from Evansville to-day for being drunk. Three days will see him out again.

—The Grand Hotel is fast getting ready for active business. The first dinner will be served next Sunday at 1 o'clock.

—Streets were not made to be used for ash-beds and slopp-pails. Have a little pride and cleanliness about the front of your yards.

—Daniel Westcott, who had a hand hurt in the cotton factory machinery has been presented with a purse by his fellow employees.

—Dr. J. B. Whiting has been awarded the task of looking after the health of the county poor in this city and vicinity and at the jail, the appointment being for the ensuing year.

—Mrs. Fred Jenkins, of Berne, is in the city for a brief visit with relatives and friends. This is the first time she has visited her old home for two years, and she is welcomed most heartily.

—To-morrow evening at Cannon's hall, Rev. Dr. Anderson speaks on "The Chinese Question." His residence in California, and his long, careful study of the subject, render him well fitted for speaking on it.

—Belott's calaboose is so shaky that it won't hold a man unless he is too drunk to dig out. Belott Smith is the name of the latest to escape, but he was retaken the next day, and will now serve a time in the jail here.

—Fenton B. Turck, whom many here know, as he visits Janesville frequently in the interests of the Diamond Lumber Company, came near drowning in Milwaukee the other day. He and a young lady skated into a hole left by the ice-men and both sank, but were finally recovered by two young men.

—There were about seventy-five present last evening at the rooms of the Y. M. A., at the social given by the African M. E. church folk, for the benefit of the pastor. The first part of the evening was given up to music and other exercises. Many of the old Southern melodies were rendered, and at the close an oyster supper was served. Those who attended pronounced the affair an enjoyable one, though financially it was not as great a success as it should have been, considering the worthiness of the cause.

OWNED UP GUILTY.

Charles Irwin appeared to-day before Judge Conger and pleaded guilty to the larceny of a watch from Robert Synott, and was sentenced to six months in jail.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 32 degrees above zero; at 1 o'clock a. m. at 28 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 31 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 43 degrees above.

The indications to-day are rising barometer, slightly cooler northwest to southwest winds, partly cloudy or clear weather.

Rheumatism Sixteen Years.
I suffered so severely that I was often robbed of my night's rest; a change of weather would have the most painful effect on me, for then I could not move my hands or feet. Half a bottle of St. Jacob's Oil cured me.

THOMAS OTT, St. Bonifacius, Pa.

CARD.

Having been called to Milwaukee to succeed Dr. Mac Dermott, as surgeon to the Northwestern Eye and Ear Institute, I shall be obliged to discontinue my visits to Janesville as heretofore, but will be pleased to see those desiring treatment for eye and ear diseases, at 199 Wisconsin street, Milwaukee.

E. W. BREBE.

FURTHER ARRESTS.
It is now claimed that new and stronger evidence has been gained in the matter of mutilating the tombstones at Evansville, and it is thought the whole matter will be brought clearly to light. Craig is now serving his term. Pritchard has his trial at Evansville next Monday. Today George Ingalls, alias Wilson, who was a witness in the Craig case was brought here and lodged in jail, to answer to a charge of being in the plot himself. His trial will take place at Evansville next Tuesday.

MR. ROBERTS' CONDITION.
For some time past Mr. Jeremiah Roberts, father of A. J. Roberts, the druggist, has been in such a condition of health as to lead his physicians to declare that recovery was next to impossible. It was decided that the only chance was by having a surgical operation performed and that chance was a slim one. It was decided to have the operation performed as a last hope, and so this morning Dr. Judd, assisted by Dr. Chittenden, amputated the leg just above the knee. Much anxiety was felt concerning the result, but Mr. Roberts stood the operation much better than was expected, reaction set in, and there seems reason for hoping that the result will be a permanent bettering.

Hollister, Madison; O. L. Woodward, Clinton. L. A. Lange, of Chicago, read a very interesting paper on the condition of the drug market—giving the most important changes in prices during the past year. Mr. E. B. Stuart, of "The Chicago Druggist," made a few remarks on the use of the microscope in chemistry, which were listened to with great interest by the members present.

Mr. Stewart, who has charge of the Chemical Laboratory of Lord Stoughton & Co., is Secretary of the Chicago Microscopical Society, and is an expert in the use of that instrument. He exhibited a very fine microscope and demonstrated before the Association how it can be used to excellent advantage in every day business in detecting adulteration in drugs and chemicals, without subjecting them to chemical analysis.

The retiring President, Dr. C. M. Smith then addressed the Society with a few well timed remarks, congratulating them on the progress made during the past year, etc.

The meeting was more largely attended than any of the previous ones, and proved of much more interest to all concerned. There was quite a display of chemicals and drugs from different houses.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK, best accommodations, reduced prices.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

The Decision in the O'Hara-Russell Assault Case Rendered To-day.

Considerable interest has been felt in the examination of the case of the State vs. Alex. Russell, in which the latter was charged with an assault upon young O'Hara. It will be remembered that the trouble first arose in Wolf's saloon, and the City Marshal there had a squabble with O'Hara and Kelley, the Marshal claiming that they were disorderly and had attacked him, when he was trying to clear the saloon in accordance with the request of the proprietor. Afterwards O'Hara and Kelley armed themselves with pieces of gas pipe, as they say to protect themselves in case they came across the Marshal, again. Russell got word that they were after him, and intended to assault him, and when he next met them they were sitting by Fredendall's store, and he arrested them. They say he drove them to jail at the point of a revolver, and that when near Dr. Horne's house O'Hara turned to run, and Russell shot several times, one ball hitting O'Hara in the back. Russell claimed that O'Hara turned and went for him with an ugly piece of iron gas pipe, and he fired at him in self-defense.

Justice Pritchard rendered his decision this morning. He reviewed the testimony in detail, and laid down the law as being that in case of a misdemeanor, the Marshal could not arrest without process of law, unless the act was committed in his presence, and that under such an arrest he would have no right to shoot an escaping prisoner. In case of felony the law was different, but the testimony showed that if any offense had been committed by O'Hara it was only a misdemeanor. He did not think the Marshal had a right to arrest O'Hara while sitting quietly in Fredendall's doorway, but even if he did arrest him legally, he had no right to shoot at him when escaping. This resolved the whole question down to whether Russell shot to prevent an escape or shot in self-defense. He decided that it befell the defendant to show a preponderance of evidence that he deemed his life and safety in peril, and fired to defend himself, and he did not deem the evidence strong enough in support of this claim to warrant him in discharging the accused. He therefore deemed it better to let the Circuit Court pass upon the case. The bail was fixed at $500, which was promptly given, the charge to which he will be called upon to answer being assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

A BRILLIANT GATHERING.

The Reception Given Last Evening by Hon. Hamilton Richardson and Wife.

There was a large gathering of friends last evening at the residence of Hon. Hamilton Richardson and wife. The spacious rooms opening into each other, elegantly furnished, and filled with a brilliant and gay grouping of ladies and gentlemen, presented a most pleasing appearance. Social enjoyment was at its height, and all seemed merry. The host and hostess received their guests in a graceful yet cordial manner, and the wants of each and every one were most attentively and thoughtfully cared for. Anderson's orchestra, stationed in a favorable place, discoursed music, to the measures of which the feet of those delighting in the dance kept time, while other of the guests indulged in chatting or in games, and each seemed free to seek the pleasure that each most delighted in. At a suitable hour refreshments were served, in a most tempting and bountiful manner. All of the arrangements were in keeping with the elegance and enjoyability of the occasion, and there was nothing left unthought of or undone, which would in any way add to the pleasure of the large company. All who participated pronounced it one of the most successful and happy social events of the season, and the expressions of this feeling, as given with the leave-takings, were as honest as they were many.

MISS BARRETT'S READINGS.

Last evening there was a happy gathering of friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gookins, chiefly to greet Miss Lucy L. Barrett, of Rockford, and to listen to a few readings from her. Other incidents helped to make the evening attractive and enjoyable, but Miss Barrett really served the feast. She is a marvel in the elocutionary art, and is unlike any one save herself. Young, petite, with a merry face and a sparkling eye, her appearance is such as will at once capture an audience, but her voice is the great power. It combines sweetness with strength, and she has it under perfect control, while her renditions are made more life like by the facial changes which follow each other in quick succession, and which speak more clearly than words, the emotions which are at play within. Free from the common affectations of the stage, she has a happy, natural way of picturing by gesture and expression the thoughts of others, so that they seem to be her own. For one so young she is indeed wonderful, and those who listened to her last evening were charmed and enthused by her readings.

The Plover House Glee Club was present and gave one of their rousing songs. Prof. Boston gave a humorous song. Miss Battle gave some instrumental selections, and games and social chat occupied other time. The company was bountifully served with refreshments, and were most hospitably cared for.

Liver Complaint and Indigestion
DEAR SIR:—My business has been that of an engraver and carver in wood. Owing to confinement to ill-ventilated rooms my health gradually declined, when I was unable any longer to prosecute my business. At this time I was suffering from great prostration of strength, extreme indigestion and disordered liver. My usual weight was 165 pounds, but I had become so much emaciated that I weighed but 120 pounds. In the early part of May last I commenced taking the PLEASANT SYRUP, and almost immediately felt its tonic and invigorating influence. In the course of four months I used four bottles. My weight this day is 145 pounds. I have neither liver complaint nor indigestion, but consider myself in a perfect state of health, and in good spirits.
